Applied Racing is excited to announce two brand new triple clamp designs for the new 2009/2010 CRF 450R 2010 CRF 250R. Upon testing of the new 450R/250R, we realized there were some issues that needed to be addressed, as the bike was very unbalanced. Much time and effort was made by engineers and testers at Applied to make a triple clamp that addressed those issues. With our FST clamps, the most noticeable difference is the reduction of headshake in high-speed straight-aways. The FST clamp also allows the bike to have a smoother transition from lean, to upright, and on the gas out of the corners without front-end knifing. The clamp still permits the use of the Honda dampener. As for the SST clamp, it increases the responses the FST clamp experiences to a more extensive level. The sets are completely CNC machined from 6061 and 7075 billet aircraft quality aluminum, for superior strength and durability. Fork bores are precision machined for a perfect fit and greater clamping surface to reduce fork flex. Bar mounts are reversible to allow for stock bar position, or a more forward and aggressive position. Optional height bar mounts are available. The sets include Upper and Lower Triple Clamps, bar mounts, one-piece top strap, and all the necessary hardware. Choose from Silver, Black, or Red for either solid or rubber mount bars. Applied clamps are made in the USA in our own facility, and have a lifetime warranty to the original purchaser. There are many brands to choose from these days, but after-market triple clamps started with Applied. Why accept imitations?
